

The Story of a Baguette

Hello, my name is Bilbo Boudin Baggett, but you can call me Bo.

I was baked at the Boudin Bakery in San Francisco. My life was spared and I became a traveling baguette.

I live with a dog, Brilla who loves to hang out with me.

There is also a cat, Pippin, who like to sniff me...what, like I'm covered with liver?

My ride!

I do get around!

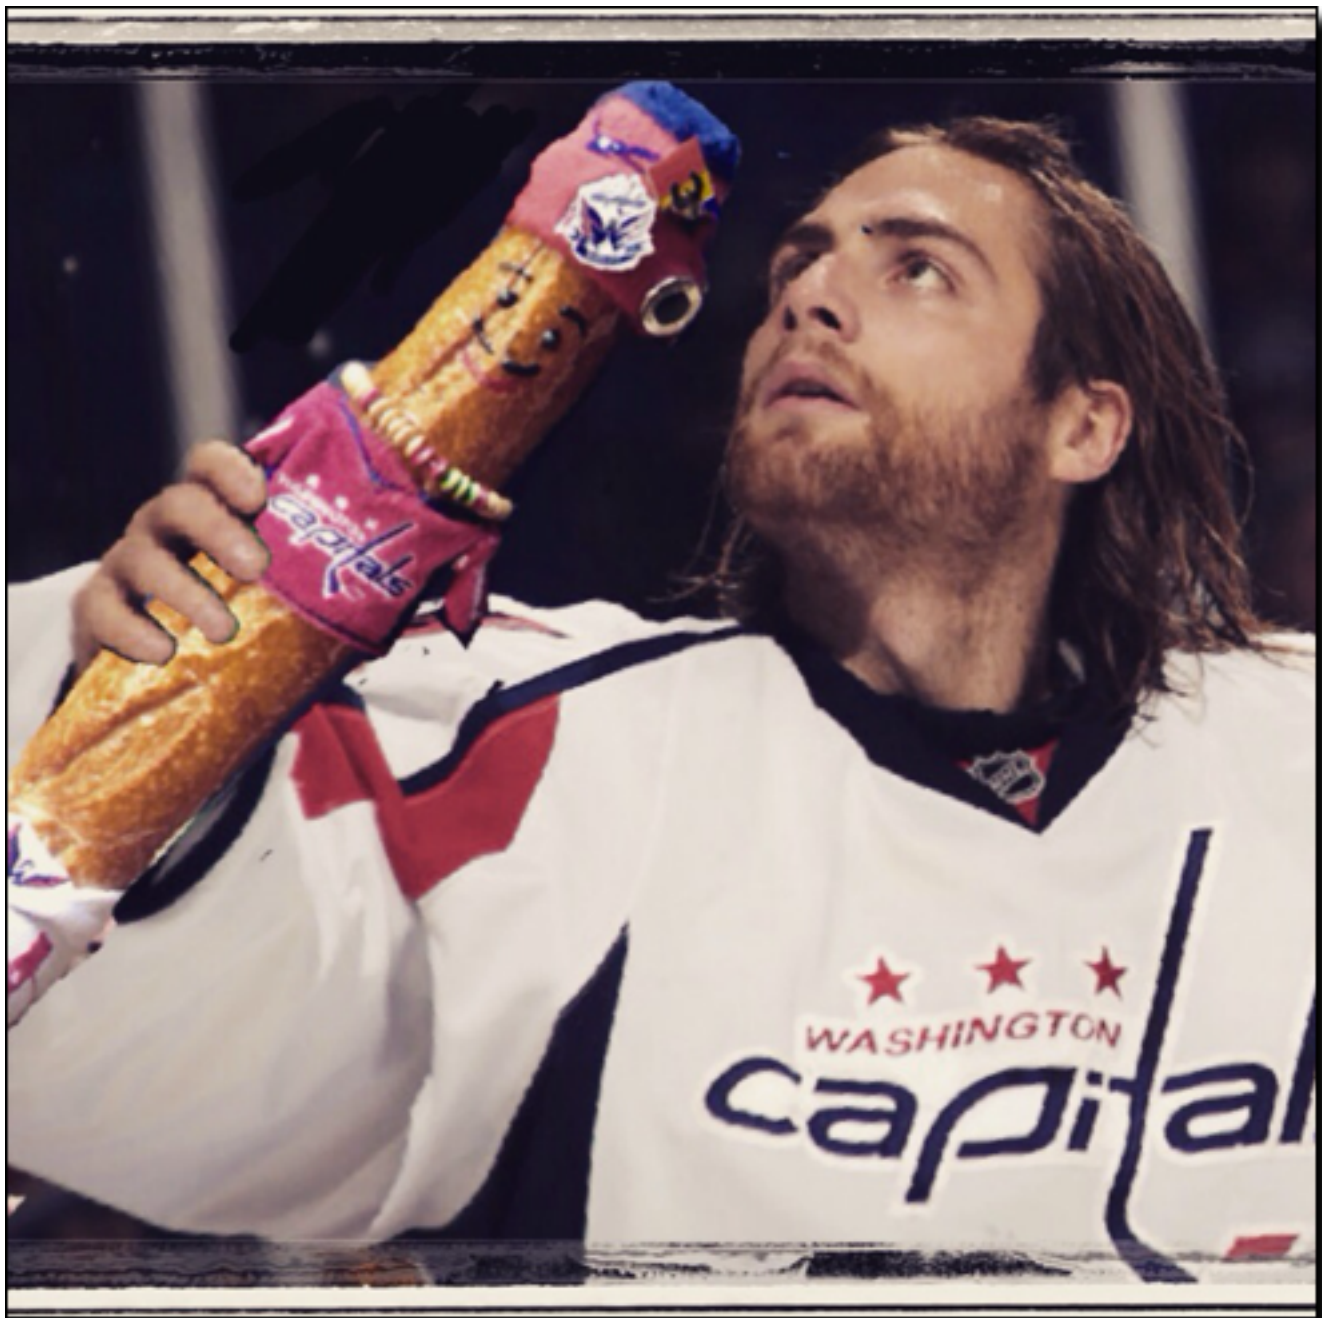

I've traveled all over and seen and met a lot of great people and things!

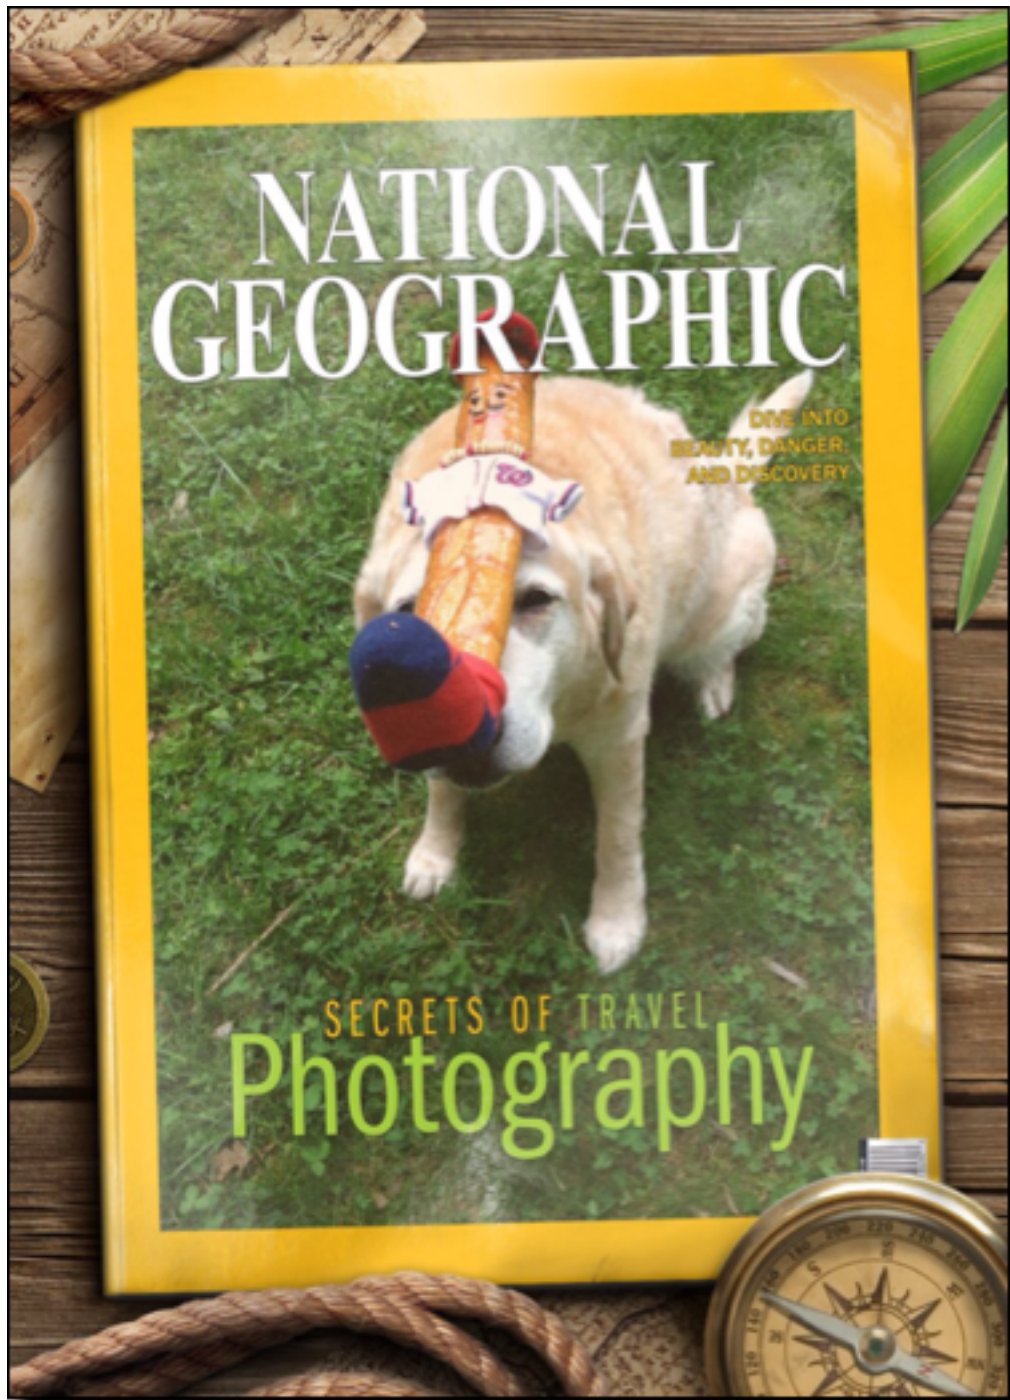

I've even been to Australia and met some fine kangaroos. They miss me.

I love the Washington Capital Hockey team. This is Joel Ward, #42, my favorite player.

Braden Holtby is the goalie and also a favorite!

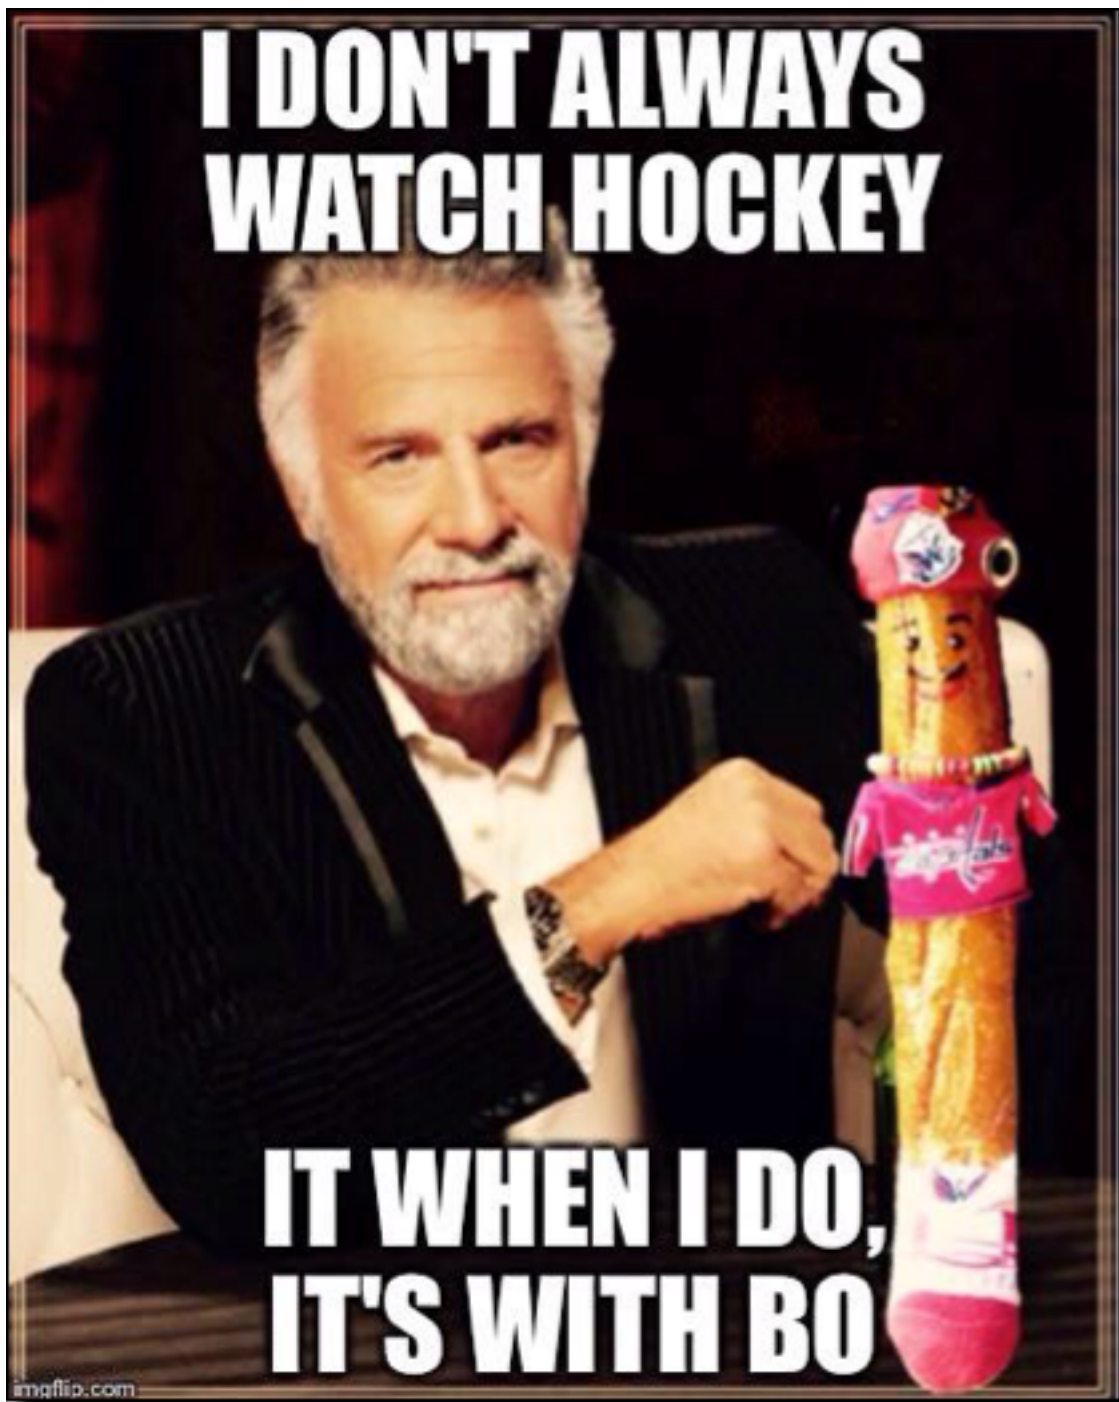

Yup, I'm that famous!

I even have my very own traveling baguette bag!

Here are a couple of Caps fan I ran into! They are the Brouwer Rangers (Troy Brouwer is also a Cap).

New buddy of mine, the most interesting man in the world.

Did I mention that I love to watch the Caps play?

Whoa, fella, don't eat me! I just dropped by for a visit.

I'm not too fond of the cold snow, especially when someone, who shall remain nameless, buries me six inches deep!

I even have a teeny tiny me in Legos!

They say everyone who can grow a beard should try at least once in their life, right?

If you are ever on the street and happen to see me, don't be afraid to say hi.
